THE LEGISLATIVE SCANDAL.

Never in the history of California has bribery, corruption and legislative rascality become so apparent as in the Senate and Assembly now in session in Sacramento. So apparently corrupt has that body become that the metropolitan newspapers, regardless of politics, have been compelled to show up the corrupt practices of prominent legislators. First came whispers of bribery and corruption in connection with the bills to divide Colusa and San Bernardino counties, and not without good cause too, for it is certain that large sums of money were used to further those bills. Following in the wake of these scandals, which to a certain extent have been hushed up, came the Bruer business. The exposure of the Sacramento Assembly was complete and convincing, so much so that most of his party papers not only look upon him with suspicion, but have tried him in their columns, as it were, and found him guilty. To cap the climax now comes the Senatorial bribery sensation, in which some ten or twelve Senators and Assemblymen are involved. It is known for certain that $21,600 has been paid for Senatorial votes, but just who paid the money and the names of the rascally legislators who received the coin have not up to the present time been made known to the Press representatives by those pressing the investigation for fear of defeating the ends of justice. Without a doubt the present Legislature is one of the most infamous that has ever been elected in this State. A thorough official inquiry ought to be made into these charges of wickedness on the part of certain Senators and Assemblymen, who, if the half told about them be true, ought to be behind prison bars instead of sitting in legislative halls making laws for honest people.

FELTON ELECTED SENATOR.

The balloting for United States Senator by the California Legislature was brought to a close Thursday afternoon by the election of C. N. Felton to the coveted position after the eighth ballot, which resulted in 40 votes for Estee and 39 for Felton. After the roll call for the ballot had been completed, there was a stampede for Felton, headed by Senator Ragsdale of this county, who changed his vote from Estee to Felton. After the changes had been recorded the latter was declared elected by 73 votes.

THE RAMIE BILL PASSES THE SENATE.

The bill recently introduced in the Legislature to encourage the cultivation of ramie, passed the Senate last Thursday. The bill establishes a State Board of Ramie Culture and appropriates $10,000 for the expenses thereof.

A Present for Every Bride.

For twenty-three years "The Household" has been a welcome visitor in hundreds of thousands of American homes, and has been, during these years, the companion and help of the American housewife.

In order that the brides of the country may have the benefit of the visits of this, the oldest household publication in the country, the publishers offer to send the Household to all brides of six months or less, who will themselves, or their friends, send ten two-cent stamps with printed notice of their marriage in the same letter.

This is a very tempting offer, and they call it their "Wedding Present," which they offer to every bride in the United States on the above terms.

"The Household" has just made three very striking offers to the three subscribers who shall obtain the three largest lists of new subscribers between March first and August first.

These presents are nothing less than a $700 Horse and Goddard Buggy, a Miller Upright Piano, in either Mahogany, Oak, Walnut or Ebony case, and a Columbia Bicycle for either lady or gentleman's use.

The March number of "The Household" contains illustrations and descriptions of these elegant presents, and can be found at the news stands, or will be sent by the publishers on receipt of ten cents by The Household Company, 50 Bromfield St., Boston.

SUNDRY STRAY SHOTS.

Various Matters Discussed and Suggestions Offered.

The scene of the well-nigh fatal wreck, which occurred on the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway line in this city recently, caused, as the railroad men all concede, by the malicious tampering with a switch. But for the superior material and construction of the bridge, on which the accident occurred, the entire train, as well as the bridge, would have been carried by the momentum and force of the shock into the stream below. This shows that, although the road is now a long one, it is substantially and well built. Messrs. Corbally and Whiting were upon the scene of the disaster in a short time, and personally directed the work of repair. They estimate the damage at between $10,000 and $15,000. The engineer and fireman who remained true to their machine during the danger are deserving of great credit. Their faithfulness to their duty alone saved the train from destruction.

In the first annual fair of the Sonoma County Poultry Association now being held in Ridgeway Hall, this city, all the elements of a successful display have been incorporated. The entries under the various classes are numerous, and in the section allotted to some of the fine grades of poultry the collection is said to be one of the most complete ever placed on exhibition in the State. The pigeon department is also well represented, among the birds being quite a number of the carrier species. It is gratifying to know that a large percentage of the exhibitors are residents of this county. The visiting patrons are many and the enterprising gentlemen who conceived the idea of holding the fair are promised a financial success as a result of their labors. The association will undoubtedly repeat the effort annually in the future.

Following out this idea why could not Sonoma Valley, with her natural excellence in the production of horticultural, viticultural and agricultural staples, prepare and place on exhibition a display of the many articles reaped from the bosom of nature in your favored section. Your City Pavilion is well adapted to the purpose, and you have ample funds, I believe, already on deposit, to conduct an affair of this kind in lavish style. The advantages of a display of this character would be manifold. Your section of the county would have an individuality. It would stimulate a desire among your tillers of the soil to attain a standard of excellence—to strive quite as much in the direction of quality as they do after quantity. Such local enterprises have not only proved successful in localities where they have been held, but have added very materially to the general welfare of the industries represented therein.

In the production at the Athenaeum, last week, of the play, "The World Against Her," the appearance of Miss Della McQuaid, a Sonoma county girl, in one of the principal roles, was warmly welcomed. The young lady has very great natural ability and her playing on this occasion was of such merit that none but laudatory comment could be expressed. An audience noted for its culture and refinement, as well as its large numbers, showed its appreciation by the warm enthusiasm expressed. Miss McQuaid was called before the curtain repeatedly and was made the recipient of many handsome floral offerings. Her engagement with the company having expired, she has declined to renew it in order to take a much-needed vacation. She has, however, kindly offered to take the management and leading role in "Two Nights in Rome," to be rendered by local talent in aid of the fund to help entertain the Grand Parlor of the N. S. G. W., which meets in this city next month. The boys of Western Star Parlor are doing their utmost to make this meeting of the Grand Parlor one of the most pleasant ever held in the history of the order.

An Old Sore Healed.
I had a painful, annoying sore on my leg, near the knee, that troubled me for over two years. I tried various remedies, but the sore, instead of healing up, continued to grow larger, and to cause me more pain until I began to look for a crutch. Though the advice of a friend, who was cured of a similar trouble, I took S. S. S., and in a few weeks was cured entirely. The sore healed up, and there is not even a scar left to mark the place.

Trout fishing in Sonoma Valley promises to be exceptionally good this season, the opinion of city amateur sportsmen to the contrary notwithstanding. Glen Ellen and Embardero, which are adjacent to some of the finest trout streams in the State, have good hotel accommodations for fishermen.

Chas. Champlin, the six-year-old grandson of Asa Champlin, residing on his farm near this place, was severely kicked in the abdomen by a horse on Friday of last week. He was attended by Dr. Vance. His injuries, although painful, are not thought to be necessarily dangerous.

Jas. McDonnell, Jr., more familiarly known as "Little Mac," left Sonoma with his family for San Rafael last Saturday, where he will reside in the future. He goes to his new home to take charge of the bonded warehouse in Sausalito. Mac is one of the worse cases of a chronic office seeker we have ever met.

P. J. Hein, formerly of this place, but now of Fresno, where he is the foreman of the Eisen vineyard, writes that the system of pruning down that way is entirely different from that practiced in this valley. He does not approve of the Fresno method and predicts that the mistake will be discovered when it is too late to remedy the evil.

One of the needs of Sonoma is a public hitching place for teams. The City Trustees should attend to this matter, as the present practice of tying horses here, there and everywhere is a menace to life and limb. Every incorporated city in the State except Sonoma is supplied with public hitching posts, and if we want to avoid accidents we should have them too.

Our local sportsmen have been deprived of their usual annual sport in bagging robins. These birds, which yearly make their appearance in this valley in large numbers during the months February and March have not showed up this season, if we except one day. About ten days ago vast numbers were seen north and east of town, but the next day they winged their flight elsewhere, since which time not a solitary robin has been seen. Like the wind, whence these birds come and whither they go, no one knows.

THE RIVAL RAILROADS.

The Southern Pacific and Donahue Lines Effect a Junction at Yulupa Station.

The other day, in the presence of the engineering officials of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway and the Southern Pacific Company, a junction was effected between the two systems at Yulupa, three miles north-west of Sonoma. By this arrangement cars can now be transferred from one road to the other, which will be a great advantage to shippers forwarding or receiving car-load lots of freight to and from points in the East. Formerly this freight had to be handled several times, the loading and unloading entailing a heavy expense on the shippers. The junction at Yulupa will only be a temporary affair. The permanent junction of the two systems will eventually be made at Shellville, five miles south of Sonoma. A union depot will also be built at that point. These permanent changes will take place as soon as a pending law suit over right of way shall have been settled, which will probably be within the next year.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Buggy Occupied by Two Ladies Run Down.

A horse attached to a go-cart became frightened last Wednesday at 11:30 A. M. and broke loose from a hitching post in front of Grothaus' saloon and went tearing madly down Napa street. Upon reaching the bank corner the runaway turned into Broadway, and when opposite O.H. Fellows' Hall the maddened animal collided with a light buggy in which was seated Miss Dora Howe and Mrs. Waugaman, daughters of Hon. Robt. Howe of Eden Dale farm. The buggy was overturned and the ladies precipitated violently to the ground. Miss Dora escaped without a scratch, but Mrs. Waugaman was not so fortunate. The latter struck on her face and was quite painfully injured, but not sufficient to require the services of a surgeon. The buggy was badly wrecked and the animal driven by Miss Howe was also somewhat injured. The cart and harness of the runaway were badly damaged. No blame can be attached to Mr. Marti, the owner of the runaway horse, as he had secured the animal with a rope at least one inch in thickness.

That Hall of Records Again.

On Monday last the east wall of the new Hall of Records at Santa Rosa, toppled over, says a correspondent of the Daily Call. No great damage was done and the wall was straightened up next morning. The walls now have nearly two dozen props against them to keep them from tumbling over, and the people are beginning to wonder what they are going to get for their hard-earned tax money. It is quite evident even at this stage that the present Board of Supervisors will be relegated to the obscure places from whence they came when their term of office expires as a result of their financiering.

Sonoma Valley Olive Oil and the Paris Exposition.

Col. Geo. F. Hooper, who made an exhibit of Sonoma Valley olive oil, olives and wine at the Paris Exposition in 1889, which attracted no little attention at the time, received a bronze medal direct from Paris one day this week. The medal was given for the excellence of his olive oil, which has been pronounced by French connoisseurs to be a very superior article.

Arbor Day at Agua Caliente.

Arbor day was observed by the teacher and scholars of the Agua Caliente public school on Friday of last week. Many ornamental trees, shrubs and plants were contributed and carefully planted by the teacher and her pupils. Spreading for Leagues Around

The marshy, overgrown lands, swamped with half submerged river banks, which give them birth, the seeds of malaria impregnate the air, and are inhaled at every breath by thousands, unprovided with any adequate safeguard against the baneful influence. Yet such exists—potent alike to remedy or to prevent, pure in its constituents, and the professionally recognized substitute for the fatal drug, quinine. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters; a family specific and safeguard, foremost not only as an antidote to malaria, but also as a means of permanently removing dyspepsia, and relieving constipation, liver complaint, rheumatism, kidney and bladder ailments, and nervousness. Among inveterate it takes the first place, and is also a superb appetizer. Use it systematically.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1899.
